

New Supplier Fair Next Week

Are you a faculty or staff member who handles lab equipment and supplies? If so, you don't want to miss this opportunity!

Fisher Scientific has partnered with the University of Wyoming to bring thousands of innovative, indispensable lab equipment and lab supplies at special prices. To showcase the variety of products they offer, over 25 different partners of Fisher Scientific will be on campus in the Wyoming Union and any University employee is encouraged to attend this free event.

Where – Yellowstone Union Ballroom, Second Level

Date – Tuesday, September 24th, 2019

Time – 11:00a.m. - 2:00p.m.

This event will also feature technical presentations and hand-on demonstrations provided by different partners throughout this event in the adjacent Family Room. See the attached agenda for times and topics (9:30a.m. – 2:30p.m.).

Employees will be able to access the special pricing by purchasing the products through the Procurement Catalog. Demonstrations will be provided on how to view the products via the catalog.

Mark your calendars and come see the products in person and talk with the experts who sell them! Light refreshments will be provided.
