

Graduates of the University of Wyoming College of Law, upon successful completion of their course of legal study, should be able to do the following:

1. Understand and explain the basic principles of foundational legal subjects well enough to apply them to real-world scenarios.
2. Demonstrate the ability to think like a lawyer by identifying all the relevant facts and legal issues in a problem and interpreting and applying the law to them to support a persuasive conclusion.
3. Write a wide variety of professional quality materials, such as research papers, memoranda, legal opinions, contracts, and litigation documents, as well as documents intended for a lay audience (e.g., clients and policy makers).
4. Speak effectively in a variety of settings, including public presentations, legal and non-legal, and one-on-one or small group meetings.
5. Apply a broad understanding of legal processes and forums, and of alternative means of dispute resolution, to the solution of legal problems.
6. Research legal questions in a thorough manner.
7. Show the good judgment and practice skills necessary to comply with ethical rules and demonstrate professionalism, civility, integrity, and compassion.
