As UW enters Phase 2, the University has the opportunity to review and refine indicators of COVID-19 prevalence on campus and the set of available responses to support data-based decision making.

Section 1: What are the indicators?

1. Total # of symptomatic cases (on and off campus) per day

2. Total # of on campus (Residence Halls, Fraternity and Sorority Life) student cases per day

3. # of total cases per day over two consecutive days

4. Seven-day weekly total new cases

5. # of one-day increase of new cases in the UW population relative to the seven-day rolling average

6. Sample disease prevalence

7. # of UW fatalities

8. Capacity for isolation/quarantine

9. Hospitalizations (# of admitted COVID patients)

10. Total # of active cases

11. Total # of new cases in a single day

Section 2: What data thresholds may cause UW to take action?

1. Total # of symptomatic cases (on and off campus) per day: 5 cases

2. Total # of on campus (Residence Halls, Fraternity and Sorority Life) student cases per day: 5 cases

3. # of total cases per day over two consecutive days: 15 cases

4. Seven-day rolling average of total cases: Increasing over 20%

5. # of one-day increase of new cases in the UW population relative to the 7-day rolling average: 20 cases

6. Sample disease prevalence: Over 3%

7. # of UW fatalities: 1 fatality

8. Capacity for isolation/quarantine: Less than 20%

9. Hospitalizations (# of admitted COVID patients):

    a. Total # of local hospitalizations – community indicator: Track actuals (no thresholds)

    b. Total # of UW hospitalizations – as tracked by COVID Hub: Track actuals (no thresholds)

10. Total # of active cases: 150-200 active cases (on and off campus during the same period of time)

11. Total # of new cases in a single day: 40 new cases

Disclaimer: These examples are not all inclusive; other indicators may be considered, and many different interventions and tactics may be taken in response to the indicators.
